

MANDATORY CONFERENCE
FOR ALL STUDENTS ENTERING THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURAL ECONOMICS
SPRING 2012

We, in the Department of Agricultural Economics, want our students to be successful both inside and outside of the classroom during their time here at Texas A&M University. Therefore, we require all students to attend a mandatory new student conference to review departmental policies and opportunities that are in place to ensure your success. You are REQUIRED to attend one of the two day New Student Conferences listed below. If you do not attend one of these conferences, your offer of admission into the Department of Agriculture Economics will be rescinded.

The first day is for review of policies and where you will be given your paperwork to complete and return on the second day. The second day is when the paperwork is due so we can complete your change of major into our department. Without this paperwork being submitted, you will not be changed into the Department of Agricultural Economics. You are required to return this paperwork in person and take your picture at that time. You may also work with advisors on schedule changes. Students' registration blocks, if any from their previous department, will be removed after paperwork has been received.

Rules of the conference:

- 1. You cannot be late.
- 2. You cannot leave early.

Please email us at AgEcoUG@ag.tamu.edu at least one week prior to the conference to let us know which one you will be attending.

We are giving you ample advance notice to take care of any conflicts. THERE WILL BE NO 'MAKEUP' CONFERENCES, so schedule your vacation/break plans accordingly.

Monday, January 9, 2012	1:00 pm - 5:00 pm	BCBP 108
Tuesday, January 10, 2012	8:00 am - 12:00 pm	AGLS 111
Wednesday, January 11, 2012	1:00 pm - 5:00 pm	BCBP 108
Thursday, January 12, 2012	8:00 am - 12:00 pm	AGLS 111

Please verify the meeting room the day before your conference. AGLS 111 is the new Ag and Life Sciences Building computer lab. BCBP is the Bio/Bio building.

If you have any questions regarding this requirement, e-mail Dr. Fred Boadu, Assistant Department Head for Undergraduate Student Affairs, at f-boadu@tamu.edu.