

The following is a list of tutoring services, on-and off-campus. This is intended to be a general reference. It is not an endorsement by the Department of Agricultural Economics.

4.0 & Go <http://www.4.0andGo.com>

1501 S. Texas Ave.; College Station, TX 979-696-8886

Offers group tutoring for undergraduate courses. Please check the website for updated schedules of tutoring sessions offered and costs associated with each tutoring session.

A+ Tutoring <http://www.aplustutoring.ws>

725 University Dr.; College Station, TX 979-260-2660

Offers group tutoring for undergraduate courses. Please check the website for updated schedules of tutoring sessions offered and costs associated with each tutoring session.

The Economics Tutoring Lab <http://econweb.tamu.edu/tutorLab.asp>

3002 Allen Bldg.; 979-845-7351

Tutoring offered from 9-12 a.m. and 1-4 p.m. Monday through Thursday. Please check website for updated scheduling.

The Geology Department 007 Halbouty 979-845-2969 <http://geoweb.tamu.edu/geoclub/nav2.html>

Free tutoring Mondays and Wednesdays from 7-9 p.m. Offers tutoring from upper class students who are majoring in the Geosciences. Tutoring is offered for Geology 101, 104, and 106.

Learning Skills Services <http://www.scs.tamu.edu>

Services can include individual and group counseling, assessment of study behaviors, screening for learning disabilities, an extensive collection of self-help resources, and weekly workshops on a variety of study skills topics. They also offer a learning skills certificate program which is individually tailored to meet your needs and involves a series of workshops, academic counseling sessions with a trained academic skills counselor, and academic skills literature.

The Math Department <http://www.math.tamu.edu/teaching/helpsession>

601 Blocker Bldg.; 979-845-3261

Offers a range of free group study sessions that provide course specific outside the classroom instruction. A list of individual tutors is maintained by the Math Department and can be obtained outside of Room 601 in the Blocker Bldg.

Multicultural Services Tutoring <http://tutor.tamu.edu>

MSC 137 979-845-4551

Free tutoring service provided the Department of Multicultural Services in Math and Science courses (see website for specific courses.) The program provides consistent one-on-one and small group tutoring from students, trained on educational diversity and learning styles.

Phi Eta Sigma Honor Society <http://www.tamu.edu/pes/tutoring.php>

133 Koldus

Free tutoring for freshmen in 100 and 200 level courses. Please see website for guidelines and Tutoring Request Form.

The Princeton Review <http://www.princetonreview.com>

301 Dominik Dr.; College Station, TX 1-800-273-8430 (call this number to register for prep courses.)
Offers standardized test preparation and individualized academic tutoring. Test prep includes the GRE, MCAT, LSAT, SMAT, and the USMLE.

The Student Learning Center <http://slc.tamu.edu/>

1st and 2nd Floor, Hotard Hall; 979-845-2724
Offers a variety of programs and services that promote retention and academic success. The Supplemental Instruction (SI) program targets traditionally difficult core curriculum courses and provides regularly scheduled, out-of-class, peer-facilitated group study sessions. SI sessions will be announced within the first couple of weeks of class if one is being provided for a specific course. Individual tutoring is available in a variety of courses by appointment only.

Tutor John <http://www.tutorjohn.com>

707 S. Texas Ave., Suite 108E; College Station, TX; 979-485-8556
Offers small group and individual tutoring in undergraduate courses. Check the website or call for schedule information or to make an appointment for individual tutoring.

Tutoring through the Corps of Cadets <http://www.aggiecorps.org/Academics/default.htm>

While not available to all Texas A&M students, the Corps of Cadets offers professional, small group tutoring sessions in a variety of math and science courses each semester. These tutoring sessions are FREE to all cadets and are scheduled Sunday through Thursday nights.

University Writing Center <http://writingcenter.tamu.edu>

1.214 Sterling C. Evans Library 979-458-1455
Provides help in the writing process, from brainstorming to proof reading. Students can receive help by setting up a one-on-one consultation, using the online writing lab, scheduling an appointment online, or calling the helpline for quick questions and tips. Please visit the website or call to find the option that best fits your needs.